WHAT SOCIETY IS SAYING?

Heidi Mozoki

Kindergarten Teacher

Roland Park Elementary/Middle School, Baltimore City schools, Md.

Teaching kindergarten remotely has been an adventure. I have had to put on my vulnerable hat by allowing 26 families access to my home. I began by making short learning videos to engage my students in our curriculum. But as time has gone on, I have had to become extra creative in what lessons will keep my students coming back to my online Blackboard Collaborate meetings twice a week. I am glad that I developed strong relationships with my kindergarten families prior to the start of remote learning because it has made the transition smooth, and I have been able to connect with all of my students each week. Remote learning has validated that teaching is my calling. I love greeting my students each morning and learning all about them. I love hearing their stories and getting my daily hugs. I love watching the children play at recess, creating new games, and including new friends. The human connection side of teaching is what I value most, and with remote teaching, it just doesn't feel the same.

Cass don't even get me started I'm all for keeping teachers and students safe and if the best way to do that is virtually that's fine but teachers need to be held accountable for teaching parents can not be responsible for 6 hours of instruction for our kids while teachers take no responsibility it's not fair

How can we let our concerns be addressed??? All of us call in or email ??? I say have the teachers go into the classroom and teach lessons while the students are in the classroom virtually ... have the kids be on a structured schedule as if they were in school

It's not fair that school's who cannot meet requirements do not open. This means affluent schools who can afford to meet the requirements will have in person learning and underprivileged school districts will suffer through online learning. The safest solution is to have all online learning. Alternatively, make provisions for all schools to have in person learning. Please stop contributing to the education gap. All NJ students deserve an equal education.

Teachers think they're better than grocery store workers. Sad.

EVERYONE HAS AN OPINION

 Please get these kids back in school. They are driving me crazy. I don't care if you teach them common core or whatever just please take them back. Get them out of my hair, I need a break please!!!

 Mama Bobas absolutely!! They keep talking about the students needing social interaction and the classroom setting, which as a teacher and a mother, I completely agree with... but at what cost? And with all the guidelines they are putting in place to reopen.. there will be very litttllle social interaction anyway!
And God forbid one of the students or teachers gets sick.. then what?? So many questions and zeroooo answers

 I see lots of kids out and about in Walmart and target , and on the beach , plus lots of other places . . WHY NOT SCHOOL ?

 That's not what kids need, kids learn constantly no mater where they are. "class room settings" only teach obedience/compliance and to follow orders. If they don't receive this programming then they risk having more free thinkers in the world.

These government indoctrination centers take attendance every day because they get money every time you show up and its illegal for you to not be in school. Just think about all that for awhile.

Close all public schools give taxpayers their money back and give tax credits to send kid to private schools???

 I am a realist. I am a numbers type of person. I look at the numbers and make a decision based on facts and figures and I weigh the risks. I (personally) feel there is not a large risk by sending children back to school.

What Resources are out there for me to use?

Zoom

Perfect for any grade level for live meeting and streaming.

Class Dojo

Great for any elementary grade level to be used for communication with parent as well as the students. Translation available to make it easier for our parents who don't speak English.

Remind

Great for older students. Used for communication. Alerts are sent as texts which can be used with the app or without.

Google Classroom

Usually provided by your school district. Applications such as Google Meet, Google Forms, & Gmail are used. Great for students who are independent.

SeeSaw

Usually provided by district – there is a cost attached. This platform would be ideal for students who have more than one teacher.

Microsoft Teams

This is very similar to Google Classroom. However, instead of using the Google Suites option you would be using Word, Powerpoint, Etc.

The image features a teal background with a large white circle in the center containing the word "Zoom" in a black, cursive font. Surrounding the white circle are several decorative elements: a yellow circle with a puzzle piece icon, a yellow circle with a lightbulb icon, a red circle with a thumbs-up icon, and various other smaller circles in orange, pink, and white. The overall design is modern and colorful.

Thanks for doing this today. Tiago said it was so fun! I was upstairs doing work so I didn't see most of it, but just saw the video you posted of venom. So cool! And perfect for a dreary rainy day like today.

Thanks for always going the extra mile!

Thank you so much for making today so special for Tiago & all the rest of the kids. I know it was a lot of work but your love and commitment to these kids shines through.
Sometimes I don't know how to thank you- you just give
and give and give of yourself. The whole thing brought tears to my eyes. And Tiago felt so special all day, in fact he is still wearing his crown (although the candy is all gone 🥰🥰). We love you!!

Im glad you like it!! I will show him the video. He was a little upset since he was hoping to have you at home, he misses you a lot and I hope you guys can see each other again. Thank you for putting so much effort in making this day special for them. Unfortunately nothing was done for Joel, not even zoom celebration and the diploma was emailed to me so He was also happy for you visit as well Darianna

You go above and beyond

I wish Noah's teachers seemed remotely as passionate as you do

I try but they don't reply and Noah's a better in school student he likes to be engaged

So this online learning bores him

It's frustrating

Si estubo genial ami hija le encantó gracias porq siempre está pendiente de nuestro hijo y dedicar tiempo para ellos es la mejor gracias

Thank you for For doing this family games . We had so much fun . You should do this more often . This will give the parent the opportunity to interact more with our kids . You are awesome teacher and we love you so much . I never meet a teacher that care of much for their students . Yo are an amazing one

Will do! Btw Rudy told me he misses school so much and playing with his friends. He said he likes best his one on ones with you on Zoom but was mad yesterday he didn't have a whiteboard (Jeff doesn't know about whiteboard so didn't know what he was mad about;) so that's why he wouldn't talk. 🧡

April 17,
Dear Miss Miranda,
This is Ruddy's Ohio
nana. From the first day of school when Ruddy went in crying and came home with a smile (and candy!), Milly and I have been so impressed with
you. I remember Milly telling me about your pizza themed parent's meeting and how much effort you put in.
Since then we have seen how much effort
you put in everything

We are sad that Ruddy
is missing these months with you. Milly has told me about all the nice things you have done
for the children at home.
I would love to help you out with your efforts. Please accept this donation.
Milly calls you the best teacher ever - and I agree.
Warmly,
Ellen Tallman
